A powerful telling of the massacre in Rwanda from the perspective of the killers. Jean Hatzfeld follows up his interviews with survivors with this book of interviews with the killers. The psychology More frightening than any fiction. Makes one wonder about the future of humanity if humans can so easily kill, up close, bloody and with no remorse. Susan Sontag wrote the preface for Jean Hatzfeld's book Machete Season. She says: To make the effort to understand what happened in Rwanda is a painful task that we have no right to shirk- it is "This gentleman I killed at the marketplace, I can tell you the exact memory of it because he was the first. In April-May 1994, 800,000 Rwandan Tutsis were massacred by their Hutu fellow citizens--about 10,000 a day, mostly being hacked to death by machete. In Machete Season, the veteran foreign correspondent Jean Hatzfeld reports on the results of his interviews with nine of the Hutu killers. They were all friends who came from a single region where ...Machete Season: The Killers in Rwanda Speak [Jean Hatzfeld, Linda Coverdale, Susan Sontag] on Amazon.com. *FREE* shipping on qualifying offers.
