

Download Why Retire Career Strategies For Third Age Nurses

According to Bower and Sadler (2009), ways to plan for "Third Age" career strategies include: preparing a life portfolio, taking an honest inventory of one's strengths and weaknesses, evaluating one's needs, preparing oneself for the future, building networks, being flexible, and developing a support system. Career Strategies for Third Age Nurses offers strategies for: Rethinking retirement; Tapping expertise of Third Age nurses; Directing nursing careers; Retaining senior nurses; Creating tomorrow's nurse workforce; Expanding personal freedom; About the Authors. Fay L. Bower, DNSc, FAAN, 79, is founder of the Center for Third Age Nurses and chair of the Department of Nursing at Holy Names University, Oakland, California. She is the author of five books and 34 national and international articles. Join nursing expert Fay L. Bower and business/sociology professor William A. Sadler as they outline a solution using a new paradigm of aging the Third Age, a period of life stretching from age 50 to 75 that can be an energizing time for renewal and growth. Why Retire? Career Strategies for Third Age Nurses offers strategies for: Rethinking ... Why Retire? serves three purposes: the book gives nurses younger than 50 a chance to incorporate the principles into their career plans; nurses already in the Third Age can obtain strategies and information for making the most of the latter part of their careers; and health care leaders and executives can use Why Retire? as a toolbox for ensuring their organizations are prepared to support older nurses. - Why Retire Career Strategies For Third Age Nurses